Mr. Wink
Blink no more. When your eyes tire and ache. When they become "watery" and smart. When you must "wink" to get clear vision. When you "blink" in a bright light. When see better with one eye closed. When "crow's feet" first appear. When nature thus warns—that's the time to take measures to preserve your eyes and prevent complicated eye troubles. Have them examined at one by a competent optician. My customers are my best advertisements. Will you be one.

CAUGHT IN BOOK GRAFT.

An Ansley Resident Thought He Was Getting Something for Nothing in Fine Literature.

A citizen who was caught in the book buying graft, when he could have purchased the same goods for less money of his home dealer, writes of his experience so that others may profit by his foolishness and when they want to invest in anything consult their home dealer and give the soliciting agent a wide berth—no matter in what line he may be soliciting. He writes:

"The John Taylor Co., of New, N. Y., send out to banks and get the names of men or people whom they consider responsible or able to pay what they might contract for. After getting the names they write a postal card to the parties telling them if they will write a testimonial on the library from a prospectus which they send they would give a set of books of humor free. Later a man comes around, shows the card the party has signed for a free set and tells him if he will take a set of Ridpath's Library of Universal Literature, of twenty-five volumes worth $150.00 they will take his testimonial have it printed in the state papers, and they will give him fourteen volumes for his testimonial, and only charge him for eleven volumes, at $6.00 each and throw off 10 per cent, he to pay $150.00 down, and the balance $10.00 per month, or the other $54.60. I paid the $15.00 and the books came prepaid freight. After examining I wrote them that the books were not what I wanted and off red to deliver them to the freight depot and lose the $15.00 paid, if they would take them back. They would not do it. Now if the library is so valuable as $150, why would they not pay $44.60 for it. I want you to publish this so others may know more of what they are doing and let it alone.

Yours truly,
CHAS. E. Engle.

Would be the First to Suffer.

A great deal is said about the prosperity of the country being dependent on the prosperity of the railroads. This is partially true and the reverse is absolutely true. When the country went "tariff-revision" and Democratic in 1892, and Coxey with his army and soup houses followed the next year, the railroad stocks tumbled and many of the systems went into the hands of receivers. Very few people but will say that they believe in letting the railroads get a reasonable return on their investment. In prosperous times this can be secured, and it is a matter of concern to the railroads that they do all in their power to keep good times. If a panic should come to this country, or even a "stringency," the railroads would be the first to feel the squeeze and to suffer from it.
